U-2 Pilot's Wife Sells Life Story

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., May 2 (UPI)—Barbara Powers, former wife of former U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, will sell her life story for more than $250,000 in a package deal that includes a magazine serial, a book and a movie.

W. W. Diehl, a writer under contract to Allied Publisher, revealed yesterday that he had given Mrs. Powers a retainer check covering 10 per cent of the amount she will receive, but refused to say how much the check was for.

Mrs. Powers, Diehl and attorney Robert H. Green issued a joint statement concerning the sale of the life story of the 28-year-old woman. Diehl indicated that the amount paid to Mrs. Powers would range between $250,000 and $500,000.
